

CelebrateChange.org

October 5, 2011

I LOVE ATHLETES, NOT SPORTS!

Face it, everyone is not cut out to be great in sports. I'm one of those people. Basically there is not one sporting event I can do well. My late husband, Greg, was great in football and was an All American. He was also pretty good playing tennis, so I tried over and over again to play tennis with him but I was not any good. My last tennis game effort was around April 1979. I remember because after we finished I was famished. We went to a taco eatery and I ate more than him. He laughed and said, "You're pregnant." My response was like Sarah, I just laughed and denied the possibility since the doctor stated my chances to conceive were slim to none. Sure enough, I was pregnant and nine months later, December 1979 here came Greg II. I didn't bother with tennis any more after that.

Guess what? Now I'm married again to a great athletic guy, Charles. He played football at University of Southern California (USC) and then went on to play professional football. He now has a great love affair with golf. So here I am once again attempting to do another sport. I try to golf and it doesn't seem to be working for me either. So I came to the conclusion that I love athletes, but not sports (LOL)!

It made me think about God's relationship with mankind. God has made arrangements for mankind to be in fellowship with Him by providing us salvation thru Jesus Christ. As you know Jesus had to become sin and die to pay the price to ransom us so we could be in God's presence and our sin not separate us from Him. Why? God loves sinners, not sin.

Everyone is not a great athlete, but everyone is born in sin. Praise God everyone has the chance to become born again and free from the power of sin because of Calvary.

Residing in Fort Worth, TX, Dr. Vanessa Dantzler Ussery is the former Senior Pastor of Home Assembly Church in Los Angeles and currently serves as its Chief Executive Officer. She is also the founder of "Celebrate Change Ministries" and the author of "My Be Attitude: Who Be You?", which is available online in softcover or eBook at MyBeAttitude.org, Xulon Press, Amazon and Barnes & Noble. Dr. Ussery is available for national speaking engagements, empowerment seminars, and lectures.

Info@CelebrateChange.org / 866-232-8176