WHERE DO WE GO FROM HERE? (PART II)

Surrounded By Change, Surrounded By Uncertainty, Surrounded By Unknowns...

Hebrews 13:8 (The Message) "For Jesus doesn't change—yesterday, today, tomorrow, he's always totally Himself."

It's a new day and one we have never seen before. Do some things about this day seem similar to yesterday? Yes and no from my perspective. What are my yeses? My morning routine is the same, my breakfast was the same, and my house looked the same, even I seemed to look the same. On the no side, well that's interesting. Even though I seem to look the same it's not really true. I have changed. I awoke one day older than the day before. But that's a change I embrace as life is a gift from God. So Lord today, I thank you for the change of another day to live and glorify your Holy name.

Wow! So there's a change we can celebrate. The opportunity to awake a day older is the also the opportunity to celebrate life! It's an opportunity to praise God for His goodness and greatness. As our creator and if born again, your Redeemer, each new day is a good one as long as we are in His arms.

The sun rises every morning in our continent and has a different view of the earth. The earth rotates on its axis providing us a different distance to the sun. That means daily the sun and the earth experience change. They follow the pattern of change ordained by God at their inception and their cooperation reflects how they glorify God. Another wow! So that may indicate that as I allow the Spirit to teach me how to operate in change in my life and cooperate with His Spirit as He leads me, I too reflect the glory of God in my life!
